THE CITY TICKET. The Republican convention put in nomination on Saturday, Mr. W. T. Vankirk for Mayor. If thorough enterprise, a commanding public spirit, ability and energy, a firmness of purpose, are quali ties which claim the attention of the voters and command respect, Mr. Vankirk will be elected by a large majority. He is one of the best known men in city, and in the qualifications that go to make up an entirely fit man for the office of Mayor, there is not one in the city who is his superior. He is discreetly ambitious in everything he undertakes to do, is well informed in regard to the affairs of the city, and would bring to the office that attention, study, labor and competency that would make his administration one of signal success. The city at large would be benefited by his election, and we hope that not only will there be a full vote on the part of the Republicans, but that every member of the party will vote and work for Mr Vankirk which will insure his election. To nominate Mr. Church for City Clerk was a wise thing to do. During the past year he has filled the office in a most creditable manner. He has given it his entire time and undivided at branch every and of the work connected with the office has been promptly and thoroughly done. He has been so thoroughly efficient that there should be no question in regard to his election.

Mr. Haselton, who has been so fortunate as to have been renominated by both parties, will, of course, have a clear field. Personally, he is exceedingly popular, and his management of the treasurer's office gives general satisfaction.

When the convention renominated Mr. E. M. Hyzer for City Attorney by acclamation, it bestowed a compliment which was well deserved. Mr. Hyzer is an excellent lawyer, and not only that, but he has served the city with that ability and care that command the approbation of men of both parties. He has succeeded remarkably well in managing the cases which the city has been a party. He has made no mistake, has given the office thorough attention, and has become exceedingly popular, and will lican candidate for Justice of the Peace. That he is well qualified for that position not a person in the city would dare to put in a veto. Let the Republicans see to it that he is supported by the entire party which will secure his election.

The renomination of Mr. Denning for Sealer of Weights was one fitting to be made. He has held the office two years, and has given general satisfaction.

THE JUDICIAL QUESTION. The friends of John R. Bennett have the cheerful assurance that be will be elected judge of the Twelfth judicial circuit to-morrow by an overwhelming majority. From every part of the circuit there comes the news that the people will hold Judge Conger to his declination, and will not be influenced by the low cunning of those who have succeeded in converting him into a "judicial gymnast," and are trying by the boldest schemes possible to invent, to impeach the

tempt was made, with the sanction of Judge Conger, to make the people believe that Mr. Bennett was morally unfit for the Bench, then the people became aroused, and to-morrow will hurl that charge back into the teeth of those who have made it, and will give Mr. Bennett the election.

It ill-became Judge Conger's friends to make these gross charges against one whose character stands unstained, and through whose long practice of thirty-four years, there has never been a single charge of professional dishon-sage reached the World office: esty. The people cannot be made believe the falsehoods that have been made in a circular, secretly issued at first, and strangely bearing the same date as Judge Conger's circular consenting to be a candidate, neither will they allow themselves that nobody enjoys the nicest surroundto be seduced by the gymnastic exercises ings if in bad health. There are miserwhich Judge Conger has been giving before the public. Mr. Bennett is an honest man. His private life is spotless, and his professional career is without a stain. The people have confidence in his ability, manhood, and honesty, and will elect him judge by an overwhelming major-

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Death of General S. A. Hurlbert, United States Minister at Peru.

Suicide of Cornelius J. Vanderbilt, in New York.

An Important Rule in Relation to the Payment of Pensions.

Reprieve of Dr. Lauson by the British Government.

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT.

New York, April 2.-Cornelius Jer emiah Vanderbilt, the discarded son of the late Commodore Vanderbilt, shot himself in the head at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and died four hours later. The act was committed in the Glenham hotel, and was witnessed by no one. About six weeks ago Mr. Vanderbilt went to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, accompanied by his companion, Dr. George Terry, to use the baths for the benefit of his health. From thence he proceeded to Florida and returned to New York two weeks ago last Saturday. He took rooms at the Glenham hotel, and Dr. Terry and himself were assigned to rooms Nos. 79 and 80, fifth floor front. Mr. Vanderbilt was far from being well when he arrived, and he continued to fail until Saturday, when he took to his bed. While he was lying in bed in room No. 80 shortly before 2 into the adjoining room, No. 79. While engaged with some affairs of his own he heard the sharp report of a pistol, in No. 80. He hurried into the room, and saw that Mr. Vanderbilt had fired a bullet in to his brain. In his right hand was a re volver, and from a hole in his right temple the blood was oozing. Mr. Vanderbilt was breathing heavily, and when Dr. Terry spoke to him he returned no answer. It was evident that he could live but a short time, and Dr. Terry sent for Dr. Robert F. Weir, who quickly arrived. Restoratives were applied, but Mr. Vanderbilt did not regain consciousness William H. Vanderbilt, the brother of the dying man, was summoned, and arrived before he breathed his last. After death had taken place, Mr. William H. Vander-bilt, who was said to have been deeply moved, gave directions as to the disposition of the remains and departed for home. Judge E. O. Perrin, clerk of the court of appeals, and a friend of Cornelius J. Vanderbilt, and Messrs. Torance and Sloane, brothers-in-law, came later. Coroner Brady was notified, and at o'clock viewed the remains in an official capacity.

DR. LAMSON REPRIEVED.

London, April 2 .- The Observer to-day says: We are authorized to state that at the request of President Arthur, the Secretary of State for the Home Department has respited Dr. Lamson until the 18th inst., pending the arrival of certain Captain S. J. M. Putnam is the Repub- evidence from America. Sir William Harcourt is always willing to afford adequate time for the examination of circumstances alleged, on responsible authority, to favor a convict under sen tence of death. The prisoner, however has been distinctly warned that a respite granted under these circumstances raises no presumption of a final reprieve or commutation of his capital sentence. It has been the practice, when respites are granted for the purpose of further in-quiry into the matter, either of law or suct, that where the inquiry snows no sufficient grounds sor interference, the sentence takes its course.

NO MORE FAVORITISM.

WASHINGTON, April 2.- The commissioner of pensions has issued an order which, if adhered to, will be a great benefit to thousands of soldiers who are wondering why nothing has been done about their applications for pensions, and will be very unpopular with Congress men. The order provides that "cases. will be made special only when such cause therefor is shown to the commis sioner in writing as would satisfy the other worthy claimants whose claims precede it, should they know the facts, that such action is proper. Hereafter no case will be made special that is not brought clearly within this rule." One great cause of delay in gettin claims through the pension office has been the existence of the system of special cases. To make a case special means to take it up out of the order of its filing, irrespective of its merit, and to hasten it to a speedy decision. Cases are made special through the intervention of congressmen or other persons of influence. Congressmen go in person or write to the department asking that certain cases be I hope that it will not be laid up against ade special. A congressman has influence and votes. He passes upon appropriations and enacts laws relative to the pension service. Cases are made special, and soldiers who might otherwise be obliged to wait years often receive their payments in months, a congressman is thought to have accomplished something which the soldier himself has been unable to secure either through different pension agents or by Washington. Meanwhile, while these special cases have been occupying the attention of the clerks, the thousands of cases of soldiers at least equally meritorious are so much longer delayed, and the service of the away from their regular business and requiring them to search, often for hours, through volumes of index for cases out of their order.

Democratic Ward Caucuses.

The West side engine house was the scene of high political excitement on Saturday evening last, it being the place for holding the Democratic city convention, and the ward caucuses of all the wards. Notwithstanding the crowds that generally gather on such occasions, it was orderly, considering the work to be done. Some of the wards turned out in full force, while the Second and Third being composed of less than half a dozen persons each. Without going into full defails, we give the result of each ward meeting, as a matter of record:

FIRST WARD. Alderman-Daniel Dowling. Supervisor-A. Richardson. Constable-B. Spence. The ward committee appointed is a ollows: Wm. Smith, J. B. Doe, Jr., A M. Valentine.

SECOND WARD. For Alderman-D. C. Ward. Supervisor-J. J. R. Pease. School Commissioner— Constable-F. Phatsinger. Ward Committee-Ed. Connell, C Carlson, T. O'Rourke.

A Good Honsewife.

The good housewife, when she is giving her house its spring renovating, should bear in mind that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than many houses, and that their systems need cleaning by purifying the flood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure the diseases arising from spring malaria and miasma, and she must know that there is nothing that will do it so perfectly and surely as Hop cines. A Humorist's View of Mormonism.

I went up and looked at the Endowment House. I didn't have my endowment robe along and so didn't go in. If ever holiness to the Lord was made a gigantic joke, it is here. The idea of at Lima March 28, in which Mr, Trescott varnishing a woman with oleomargarine and running her through Zion's rink with the sickly attempt to make it all impressive, is so ridiculous and yet so sacriligious that I am unable to do the subject justice. If the readers of the Boomerang could have seen the array of bishops, elders, etc., that congregated in the main performing ring of the hippodrome, I know they would agree with me that there isn't a gravel train on the Union Pacific that couldn't produce a bigger mass of intellect, take the men as they averaged right through, than did these old humpback patriarchs, who claim that they are designated by the Lord to lead his chosen people up out of darkness into light. They do not have the honest look that a rural jury would have, and they have all the stolidity and general cussedness and depravity of a gang of criminals at-tending religious worship for the first time, only that they are not so attentive and respectful.

If it be religion for a brigade of lecherous old hogs to ride over a horde of ignorant people who are only one notch above the animal creation, and to rob hem year after year in the name of God. I hope that I may not be regarded as strictly orthodox in this valley of the modern Jordan.

These people point with pride to the fact that prostitution for years was un-known here in Salt Lake, and that poly-gamy was the cause. There is no doubt under heaven of the truth of this assertion. Regular prostitution would hide its head and go away into the Bitter Creek country and hate itself to death when met by the Mormon style of social evil, which fills a fair territory with children who will worry through their whole lives tortured with doubts about their parentage. Negro slavery was considered a frightful thing for this very reason, and yet it was never sanctified and sustained by a church, as is this institu-

In the natural excitement of writing a letter like this, I may have unintentionally conveyed some information. If so me in the future, but overlooked in a charitable way. - Bill Nye, in the Laramie City Boomerang. -

Life in the Oil Regions.

That the oil region is a country where fortunes are quickly made is well-known. The man who is begging his bread today may be wearing a diamond in his shirt front to-morrow, and the day laborer of last week is a moneyed man of the next month. On our streets we can point to men who couldn't draw a check for ten cents six months ago. Now they can draw their check for $10,000 Disease office is intefered with by taking clerks and the bank wouldn't accept it. Yonder is a man who walked from Oil City as a tramp a year ago. To-day he is porter in a hotel. Here comes a young man who borrowed ten cents of us last week to get a glass of milk. Now he wants to borrow ten cents more. He says he wants to buy a meal. He dines on liquid meals. Go to Bradford and you see the same evidences of prosperity. A man who came into this field when the excitement began with less than $100, is now worth as many thousands. Another, who was put in the lockup, and borrowed money to pay his fine, was arrested again last week and sent to jail. He could not borrow anything this time. Here's another man who went there with his last cent in his pocket. Last month he drew his check for $20,-000. He, too, is in jail. He signed another man's name to the check. Such are the ups and downs of oil life. Here to-day, in , al to-morrow .- Oil City Derrick.

On the fifth day of our march from

Lendwe, I was, as usual, considerably in front of my men, who with their loads were not able to walk as fast as myself. The sky threatened a storm, which made me hasten to reach Pamlilo. On approaching the village no one was to be seen, the natives being either out in the fields or in their houses out of the rain. The stockade presented a rather uninviting appearance, being ornamented by a few hundred human skulls in all conditions, from the freshly stuck-up head, to the bleached cranium, and all apparently snapping their jaws at the thought of a new companion, as the wind wheeled them backwards and forwards. However, the rain was falling fast, and there was no use being squeamish about it so into the village I marched unnoticed, and finding out a hut with a broad overhanging cave, I took refuge out of sight until my men came up, in order that I might appear with appropriate pomp. I had been thus ensconed nearly ten minutes, when suddenly the stillness of the village was broken by a loud, peculiar shout. This was almost immediately taken up from every quarter in the village, until every stone seemed to yell out the strange cry. Drums added to the uproar, while women screamed and the uproar, while women screamed and the men were seen hurrying toward the gates, shouting and brandishing their spears. I was very much astonished at this; but supposing it was simply the fashionable mode of receiving a caravan, I remained still, expecting my men every minute. However, the uproar continued without abatement, and my men did not appear. Thinking there must be something wrong, I emerged from my cover. To my surprise, I found the gates closed, and the stockade and the crow's-nests manned by an excited multitude, brandishing their spears at some apparent enemy outside. It instantly flashed upon me that I was a prisoner, and cut off from my men. My presence in the village was evidently unknown. For, on my appearance among them, every voice was silent, and the once excited multitude now seemed the once excited multitude now seemed to have become paralyzed with fear. I was supposed to be a ghost. Seeing this, I recovered my presence of mind, and assuming an attitude like Hamlet's ghost, I moved forward with slow, deliberate steps, and a severe expression of face. At each step the warriors recoiled. Struck with away they looked coiled. Struck with awe, they looked at me with staring eyes and open mouths in breathless silence. This was too much for me, and unable to keep up the character, I burst out with an irrepressible roar of laughter. The effect of that laugh was tremendous. The amazed savages recoiled still further, leaving the gate free. With a bound I reached it, and before they could recover their senses it was a soon argue the whole docket," said Mr. Webster, who did not wish the long trip. USEFUL HINTS.

NEATSFOOT oil is the best for softening AIR-SLACKED lime is an excellent polish for silver and tin ware. For tender feet, rub them with spirits mixed with tallow dropped from a candle before retiring.

For strengthening the hair use the following: Scald black tea, two ounces, with one gallon of boiling water, strain, and add three ounces of glycerine, tincture of cantharides one-half ounce, and 7:00 A. M. bay rum one quart. Mix well by shaking, then perfume.

GARMENTS to be ironed in cold starch should be immediately dipped in boiling water, and ironed as soon as starched. You will, in this way, have no trouble with flats sticking to the cloth. Another good way is to wet the starch with weak, cold suds made from white soap.

For dandruff, the following is an excellent remedy: Take one ounce of flour of sulphur and one quart of water. Pour off the clear liquid after the mixture has been repeatedly shaken during intervals of a few hours. Wash the head with this every morning, and avoid using a fine comb.

How TO DETECT INCIPIENT SMALL-Pox.—The feeling of tiredness and pain in the back are almost universal and prominent symptoms, but the one thing that distinguishes small-pox from every other is the hardness of the eruption. By pressing or passing the hand over the forehead or legs the feeling is exactly that which would be caused by medium-sized shot being buried under the skin, and the severity of the disease may certainly be known by the number or thickness of these shot like bumps.

BABY'S FIRST STEPS. - A young child's bones are soft and cartilaginous, and keeping a poor little thing tied up against a chair, when it ought to be lying on its back kicking the air and strengthening its limbs, or crawling on the nursery floor, is positively injurious and sinful. It is done with the view of teaching it all the sooner to maintain the erect attitude; but bent legs may be the result, and, however strong a bent-legged man may be, he certainly does not look elegant. Let the child creep, then, and as soon as he finds that he can pull himself up, and stand by the side of a box, he will do so. This is the only safe and natural process. Soon after this he will, if encouraged, venture upon what parents call the first step. Let him creep, and when he walks and falls, laugh at him. Unless you want to make the child an idiot, do not rush to pull him up. Children are not at all brittle, and they ought to the strength nature has endowed them with. Some nurses tie a band around a from the jury-box men who read the poor child's waist, and then shove him, kicking and sprawling, on before them, during which time the child looks as graceful as the golden lamb which hosiers hang out as a sign. The practice is most injurious.

EATING BETWEEN MEALS,—If your children are disposed to be greedy, and desire food between meals, reason with them on the subject. A woman who has even a very superficial knowledge of the working of the stomach can explain it to her child in such a way that it will make a strong impression upon his mind. To fornia—an article that costs tax-payers represent to an imaginative child that and litigants vasts sums of money anthe stomach is like a man who, when he has eaten his breakfast, goes to work in which technical esthetes assemble to has eaten his breakfast, goes to work upon that with all his might, and who does not rest until he has ground the food up and given the good part to the blood, so feeding each portion of the body, not forgetting the fingers and toes even, and who rejects all the bad, keeping you from sickness and pain, will awaken interest in the child's mind, and be a great aid to obedience. Put it before him, and ask him if it is not unkind before the first is finished and a little time for rest been given. It will help you greatly in enforcing it upon his mind that he must not eat at irregular intervals. A child's digestive organs may be weak; he may need to get more may be weak; he may need to eat more frequently than a grown person, but it should invariably be at some stated time. Cake or pastry should be given him but seldom, if at all; there is nothing which is more ruinous to the digestive organs.

It is related that a Friend from Nantucket once objected because Daniel argue such cases as he would present before his own case was called. When Mr. Webster got to Nantucket he found that the Friend's case was at the foot of How Poor Boys may Become Successful Men.

You want some good advice. It has that the Friend's case was at the toot of the docket, and that he was expected to argue the whole docket through. He did so and received the $1,000, but his client, who had "farmed" him out, cleared $1,500, beside winning his case.

Marriages and Deaths.

The following, from the Steubenville (O.) Herald, a paper of well known veracity, may be true, but if it is, the writer referred to deserves a position as the managing editor of a daily newspaper. He should be heard from often:

"Kentucky is a remarkable State and her people are quite as remarkable. Here is the way a correspondent of one of the county papers of the northeast section of neighborhood: 'The following persons have recently died in this place and vicinity, viz.: Mrs. John Stubel wife of Zach Stubel, at a ripe old age; Mrs. Emma Autrim, wife of Phanner Autrim, after a long and severe affliction; also Mrs. Rhoda Bean, second wife of Ezekiel Bean. 'Zekiel was soon con-fronted by taking 'Pop,' his first wife, should bear in mind that the dear infrom whom he had been divorced, for his mates of her house are more precious third wife. This last matrimonial enter than many houses, and that their systems

The First Mormon Marriage.

The first "celestial marriage" occurred by stealth, on the banks of the Mississippi, near Nauvoo, Ili. Joseph Smith "sealed" to James Noble a second wife. Noble's first wife soon died of broken heart, and the second wife went insane and also died. When Smith married Noble, the latter also married Smith to a second wife. The first Mrs. Smith clung to the prophet until a mob killed him, and then married a Gentile, and at last accounts was still living at Nauvoo. In defiance of polygamy the examples of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Moses, Joshua, David and Solomon are cited. In corroboration of the "Book of Mormon' we are pointed to the burned cities of Palenvue and Uxmal, in Central America; to the mounds in the Mississippi valley, and to other well known vestiges of a prehistoric race. When a good Mormon dies who " has lived up to his religion," and has had a dozen or two wives and fifty or sixty children, he does not become a mere angel, like an ordianary Christian-he becomes a god, with a world of his own to reign over. A Morman wife who opposes the polygamous marriage of her husband goes to hell and is "destroyed." A Mormon who obeys the mandates of the church in most respects, but neglects to "go into polygamy," becomes a mere angel, who must be a kind of celestial servant to the gods and other angels. His wife must share the same humiliating fate. The doctrine of "blood atonement" is simply this: If an apostate's throat is cut, the spilling of his blood upon the ground will save his soul. If he is left to die a natural death his soul will go to hell. A great many apostate souls have been saved in Utah. This, in substance, is the Mormon religion.

How the Courts Encourage Criminals. A couple of cattle thieves at San Jose were convicted in 1879 and sentenced to five years' imprisonment in San Quentin. In writing out the verdict a juryman improperly spelled the word defendants. The document read: "We find the defendances guilty." On this quibble the case of one of the thieves was appealed to the Supreme Court. After long pondering on the weighty subject, that august tribunal decided in the thief's favor. The case is not one of striking importance, save that it illustrates what is conno longer inquires: " Is this man a thief? Is he a swindler? Is he a murderer? Did he actually commit the crime he is charged with?" On the contrary, it Oriental. turns its large manifying glass on the case and practically says: "Is there any possible technicality by means of which this worthless scoundrel can be shielded Brabant, to find it." The law seeks to exclude daily papers and who are wide awake and intelligent, and, in the case under discussion, nullifles a verdict because, naturally enough, a juryman is too ignorant to spell correctly. A thief is turned loose, not because he is innocent, but because a juryman proves to be ig-norant. The juryman was really on trial, at great expense to the public, instead of the thief. The investigation was one concerning orthography and not cattlestealing, as was erroneously supposed.
And this is what they call law in California—an article that costs tax-payers split hairs, strain at legal gnats and save the guilty from punishment.—San Francisco Call.

Born Grown Up.

A Paris correspondent of the Newark Advertiser writes: In this precious age children are born grown up. Little girls are dressed like their elders, and before to do duty as pages at a fashionable wed-ding and attend a bride to the altar have they gone in for unusal dress. But in Paris simplicity goes for very little, and the more artificial life can be made the better. Little boys of six or nine years old are now attired as court valets, and do pretty manners in the mothers' sa-lons. The dress is a coat of dark cash-mere or cloth, dark blue or chocolate colored. It is square cut behind, fitting very closely into the back, round collar and small facings, and very high in the neck and buttoned with cut steel or silver buttons. From the waist the coat opens, slanting off so as to show a long satin waistcoat, with deep flaps and pockets. Knee breeches and silk stockings and shoes with silver buckles, on full dress occasions, complete the dress.
All that is wanted is a powdered wig to make little boys look as if they were the ghosts of serving men of Louise Seize.

Blue Glass Again. Prof. Schlager, director of a noted insane asylum at Vienna, announces the result of an experiment made by him in relation to the blue glass healing theory, which at one time attracted so much attention. He had a room furnished with windows of blue glass and had the walls painted of the same color. He then secommence at the first round and keep climbing; make your word as good as your bond; seek knowledge to plan, enterprise to execute, honesty to govern all; never trade beyond your stock; never trade beyond your stock of the same trade of the same trade of the same trade of the sam fully noting the apparent effects upon them. He discovered that the abnormally aroused and excited temparament experienced a remarkable soothing and quieting influence in the blue light, and he expresses the conviction that with persons thus mentally deranged, with whom every other method of treatment had failed, this should be tried. He does not report any complete cures, made by this means alone, but says that in most cases the treatment has proved beneficial, and that if continued systematically and persistently, the indications are that it will lead to complete restoration. In no case did it work injury. He the State, announces death notices in his expresses the intention to continue his experiments, and calls upon all associates and colleagues in the treatment of the insane to do the same, and make careful notes of their observations.

JAPANESE cement is made by mixing powdered rice with a little cold water, and then gradually adding boiling water until a proper consistence is acquired, being careful to keep it continuously stirred; lastly, it must be boiled for one minute in a clean saucepan. This glue is white and almost transparent, and is well adapted for work which requires a strong and odorless cement.

WARM MILK AS A BEVERAGE.—Milk heated to much above 100 degrees Fahrenheit loses for the time a degree of its sweetness and its density. No one who, fatigued by over-exertion of body or mind, has ever experienced the reviving influence of a tumbler of this beverage, heated as hot as it can be sipped, will willingly forego a resort to it because of its hav-ing been rendered somewhat less accept-able to the palate. The promptness with which its cordial influence is felt is inwhich its cordial influence is left is in-deed surprising. Some portion of it seems to be digested and appropriated almost immediately; and many who fancy that they needlacoholic stimulants when exhausted by fatigue will find in this simple draught an equivalent that will be abundantly satisfying and more enduring in its effects.

To CLEAN KID GLOVES.—Get one quart of doodorized benzine, one drachm of sulphuric ether, one drachm of chloroform, two drachms of alcohol. Cologne oil can be added, if desired. Pour a little of this into a clean bowl, and wash the gloves in it as you would wash anything. After the dirt is nearly out, rinse in more of the clean fluid. Usually one rinsing is enough, but if the gloves were very much soiled rinse the second time. If the gloves are of cheap sister from whom he has been separated fifty years. This preparation is an excellent thing to keep in the house, not only for cleaning gloves, but for taking out greasespots from clothing and carpets, and for

One of the most important items in the family expenses is the clothing, especially as there is so much of what is called "cloth" made up for boys and men that will hardly hold together. With the average family the income is limited, and the prices of shoddy ar-ticles are so small that there is a strong inducement to purchase the so-called "cheap" goods. It is, perhaps, not too much to say that the majority of people buy low-priced clothing. But, as a matter of fact, they are the most expensive goods that can be worn. A strong, fine-textured, well-made article will outwear at least three of this poor material, and it does not really cost as much, considering the amount of wear, to say nothing of the shabby appearance of faded cloth—the vexation of having the garments continually breaking to pieces, the necessity of daily repairs, with the unsafe feeling when one steps a little high, or puts on an unusual strain. The excuse which we have suggested for buying such goods we know is a hard one to meet, being in a majority of cases the want of money to get better goods. But it is better to make the old coat last a little longer and put all the money in the rest of the suit, and when the money one will soon have to find to supply another cheap suit is at hand, get a good coat. As a wise and economical rule, one should never pur-

Spectator—I send you two stories, as they were told to my boyhood, of cats connected with my family-in which, I may add, cat worship has been for centuries a hereditary legacy. One, when its master was lying wounded nigh to death, watched for many days and nights at the door of his room; it would not be lured or driven away till at last it was possible for the convalescent to receive his faithful and inconsolable friend, whose ecstacy may—or, rather, may

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. So much for the charge of personal indifference brought against cats by those who prefer the promiscuous and obtrusive caresses or solicitations lavished by dogs on almost any stranger, to the choice and constant affection which cats, with the instinct peculiar to babies and themselves, reserve with such scrupulous self-respect for those in whom they recognize a true reciprocal attraction—an unmistakable innate affinity.

My second story illustrates only that attachment to places which is more commonly recognized as a feline property, but illustrates it in so singular a degree that it may, perhaps be thought worthy of this passing record. A POPULAR TONIC

No preparation ever introduced to the American public, for the relief and cure of Coughs, Colds, Bore Throat, Debilitated Constitutions, Weakness of the Lungs, or Consumption in the incipient or advanced stages of the disease, has ever met with the indorsements of physicians or patients as the celebrated "Tolu, Rock and Rye." The repeated and continued sales of the article everywhere are the best evidence of its real merits. Letters and testimonials from every quarter of the country, attesting the stimulating, tonic and healing effects, are in possession of the proprietors, and can be adduced to convince the most skeptual reader of its intrinsic virtues. Further commendation is unnecessary and superfluons, as a trial of this article, having a pleasant taste and agreeable flavor, will satisfy all those who are afflicted or pining away with pulmonary weakness of the relief to be secured by the use of Tolu, Rock and Rye.—Chicago For Weak Lungs and Consumption

The grand old lady is still largely in possession of her faculties, and ready to discuss any controverted point in ecclesiastical history with any one venturesome enough to challenge her. May her faith never be shaken, and may her occidental sun shine brightly till the light from the golden gate shines upon her.

-The Republicans of the several wards have nominated good men for the offices of alderman of their respective wards. Ed. Murdock, of the First ward, and O. F. Nowlan, of the Second, have each served two years in the council, and their official worth is known to the public. They deserve the cordial support of the Republicans, and all others who desire the prosperity of the city to continue. They will be elected by good majorities. In the Third, Fourth, and Fifth wards, new men have been nominyears ago, and is one of our successful business men. Mr. A. P. Bennett, of the Fourth ward, is another of Janesville's wide awake, successful business men, and will make a first class representative in the council. A council composed of such men, could not but act for the best interests and prosperity of the city.

-A quiet, but exceedingly happy wed ding, took place in Beloit, yesterday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Henry P. Higley. They were accompanied to Beloit by Mr. Fred H. Davies, brother -The Republican candidates for school of the bride, and Miss Kittie A. Russ and Mr. and Mrs. Myron B. Clark, of Mt. Zion. On their return to the city last evening they were greeted, at the home pany of intimate friends, who partook with them of an elegant wedding supper, after which the happy couple repaired to Mt. Zion, where they will make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Airis are well known and highly esteemed in this city and will carry with them to their new home the hearty congratulations of a large circle of friends.

-The funeral services of Mr. Peter Neyhart were held yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the 1st M. E. church. The sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. D. J. Holmes, from the words "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord." He spoke feelingly of the pure, gentle, life of the deceased that impressed upon who came in contact with him the nobleness of his character. Mr. Neyhart had been a member of the 1st Methodist church for some years, and was highly esteemed by the membership. The Temple of Honor, of which was also a member attended in a body procession through the city. The remains were taken to the cemetery in the town of Janesville about four miles from the city. Thus one by one the gray heads fall and are laid at rest. and another generation is passing from the turmoil and strife of earth.

-Ray Putnam, who attempted on Saturday night to drown his sorrows of unreturned love by swallowing an ounce of laudanum, and who came near being a subject for a post mortem examination, -The constabulary force of the city, as well as furnishing a first class item for somewhat in intoxicating drink, called upon his lady love. For some reason he was received very coldly, and he left, and on his way to his mother's house, in the First ward, he purchased an ounce of laudanum, which he drank On reaching his home, he regretted the act of attempting to take own life, and awakened mother and informed of what he had done. Dr. Sutherland was immediately called, and on the Doc tor's arrival Young Putnam was uncon scious, and nearly dead, but after severa hours' labor and the administration of the needed remedies, he was restored to consciousness, and is now able to about.

MUSEMENTS.

HOWORTH'S DOUBLE SHOW. To-morrow evening Howorth's grand Hibernica will give a performance at Myers' Opera house. The show consists of a comedy company of excellent ability, and a panorama of Ireland. The Hamilton (Ontario) Times says:

Howorth's Double show opened at the City Hall last night to a good house. The scenery is fresh and bright and the views of the leading cities and landscapes in Ireland exceedingly good, and admirably described by their pleasing lecturer. In addition to the panorama, there is an excellent olio performance of singing and lancing, with instrumental accompaniment. The show is one well worthy of patronage. There is lots of fun of a bright and sparkling kind without the least shadow of coarseness. This afternoon there will be a matinee, and to-night the company appear for the last time with an entire change of programme. Those who attend will be sure to be well pleased. THE OBERLINS.

There was a regular shower of good music at the Guards' armory on Saturday evening, the occasion being the appearance of the Oberlin Glee Club. The club is composed of sixteen trained male singers, who have received thorough instruction from Professor Chamberlain, of the Oberlin College, and who is leader in the series of concerts now being given by the club. The programme proper consisted of sixteen very popular numbers, and the recalls added a half a dozen more to the programme which made the concert the best, longest and mest satisfactory of any which has been given in Janesville for years Among the very fine solo singers were' Mr. Brooks, a pure tenor, Mr. Swift, baratone, Mr. Bradley, base, and last, but the best, Professor Chamberlain, who is an exceedingly good tenor. The choruses were most excellent and loudly applauded. The audience was moderate in size, and those who staid away thinking that it was an ordinary concert, were badly disappointed. It was a musical feast and a very sumptuous one, and all who were fortunate in attending made a

In justice to myself and to Mr. Bennett, I desire to say that the statements so far are correct; but that Mr. Bennett "relieved his conscience from the binding power of a contract" by such a plea is incorrect, as my claim against him was honorably adjusted years since, and has been paid in full with interest.

Killed by Lightning.

We learn, from Mr. C. L. Brown, that farm hand, in the employ of Mr. Thomas Trounson, who resides on Koshkonong Prairie, in the town of Albion, Dane county, while plowing in the field at six o'clock this morning, was struck by a bolt of lightning, killing the man and horses almost instantly. It seems that Mr. Trounson's family, who were in the house at the time, saw the bolt of lightning, and ran up stairs, supposing that the house had been struck. On reaching the upper part of the house and looking out into the field they saw the man, (whose name our informant did not know, as he had but recently been employed) and the team lying upon the ground. Mr. Trounson went immediand acted as an escort to the funeral ately to assist them, and upon his arrival, the man and one of the horses were breathing, but both expired in a few minutes after. The lightning appeared to strike the man first, upon the head, and passing down his arms to the plow, was conducted to the horses.

A Valuable Gift.

A great many in this city will remember with pleasure Miss Josephene Miller, daughter of Colonel Ezra Miller, who was a resident of Janesville years ago. Miss Miller received her education here and at Rockford, and was a devout and active member of Christ Church, of this city. She is now the wife of Mr. M. L. Hinman, secretary and treasurer of the Brooks Locomotive works, of Dunkirk. New York, where they live in the enjoyment of prosperity and a wide circle of warm friends. We say this much by way of introducing the following article from the Dunkirk (New York)

Journal, of Wednesday, March 15: "At the Lake Shore freight house on Monday we noticed a large fine church bell from the Menely bell foundry at Troy, inscribed, 'Presented to St. John's Episcopal church, Dunkirk, by Mrs. M. L. Hinman, Easter Sunday, April 9. 1882.' It is evidently intended as an Easter offering by the estimable lady. and will no doubt be a very acceptable one to the congregation of St. John's Episcopal church. The bell weighs 2,100 pounds and will be first used in ringing. in the Easter morning."

Mrs. Hinman's many friends in Janesville will deeply appreciate her generosity toward the church of which she is so faithful a member.

James Edwards, the only son of Mr and Mrs. A. B. Edwards, of this city, who was severely mangled on Friday evening March 24th, by falling between a caboose and a freight car on the Madison and Milwaukee air line, near Deerfield, died at Madison on Sunday morning at ten minutes past six. His remains were brought to this city this forenoon, accompanied by the mother of the de. ceased, and his sister, Mrs. Owen. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. Edwards, near the Baptist church, at 10:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning, and the Rev. D. F. Davies, of the Congregational church will officiate

The family of the unfortunate young man have the deepest sympathy of the community. It was hoped that James would recover, and from first report of the accident, that hope did not seem to be ill-founded. Mr. Ed wards went to Madison, immediately upon receipt of the sad intelligence of the accident, and remained there three days and left his son doing well. He grew worse, however, when Mr. Edwards returned and held a consultation with the surgeons, when he was informed that the case was liable to terminate fataly in lock-jaw, which proved too true, and on Sunday morning he died as stated.

The Democratic Convention.

The Democratic City Convention met in the City Hall, on Saturday evening, and was called to order by Wm. Smith, chairman of the committee, who was made chairman of the convention, and Thomas Lahey chosen secretary. After the list of delegates were read from the various wards, embracing seventy-five pames, an informal ballot was taken for mayor, Messrs. R. B. Williams, A. O. Wilson and J. B. Being too busily engaged to personaly thank you for your ous patronage in the past, I take this opportunity of doing so, and respectfully soliciting a continuance of the confident that never before in my thirty-five years busing perience in Janesville, have I been able to do as well by the present time. A large portion of my share of goods below to the late firm of Smith & Bostwick, have been shipped away and the balance I have marked down to prices, at least ten per cent below those of the reduction sale. Hereafter no old goods will be allowed to accumulate in the store, but new ones will be arriving almost every day, having made arrangements for a buyer in New York to select all the novelties, and take advantage of any decline in the market. It is a well established fact that the New York
